

25X1A

Powers Gets Lockheed Job Testing U-2s

Francis Gary Powers, former U-2 pilot shot down over the Soviet Union, has been employed as a U-2 test pilot by the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. since his resignation from the CIA, a Lockheed spokesman disclosed yesterday.

Powers resigned from the CIA Oct. 6, and subsequently disappeared from the Washington area. The Lockheed spokesman said Powers is working at the company's facilities in Burbank, Calif.

Powers previously had worked for Lockheed as a test pilot.